BIG CABINET QUITE LEGAL, TOLMIE SAYS

Consulted Administrator and Law Officers of Crown Before Making Appointments

Before completing his Cabinet of eleven, including two members of the Executive Council who will serve without remuneration, Premier Tolmie consulted law officers of the Crown and was assured that he had power under the constitution of British Columbia to name eight besides himself who may receive salary, he stated this morning.

Much discussion has followed the naming of the largest Cabinet British Columbia has ever had and the point has been raised as to whether the wording of the Constitution of the Act, which says that eight officials shall receive a salary of $7,500, and the official occupying the position of Premier shall be paid a salary of $9,000 per annum, meant that a total of only eight could receive remuneration.

"Naturally I received advice on this matter before naming the Cabinet. I consulted well-known legal men of the Province in addition to discussing the matter with His Honor the Administrator and referring the point to the law officers of the crown," Premier Tolmie said. "I have been assured that it is absolutely legal and correct. I even went back to consult His Honor a second time after receiving his first decision."

LIQUOR GUARDS FIRE ON YACHT

Cleveland Millionaire Protests Unjustified Attack on Voyagers on Lake Erie

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 23.—A protest against raiding methods of the United States federal gun fighting fleet on Lake Erie was promised to-day by M. F. Brantley, Cleveland millionaire, who reported that his yacht, the Buddy, had been fired on without warning and then rammed by a coastguard cutter.

Brantley said the cutter C.G. 2321 suddenly sailed out of the darkness while the Buddy was cruising last night about two miles off Edgewater Beach, Cleveland, flashed a blinding searchlight and then fired a shot before anyone on the Buddy realized what had happened.

The cutter next rammed the Buddy's bow a glancing blow, while a man standing on the bridge waved a revolver and shouted at the Buddy's passengers, Brantley asserted.

Like HUCKLEBERRY.

The yacht owner said he had ascertained the cutter was a unit of the coastguard service, and from its action he thought it might have been manned by hijacking run runners.

Coastguard officials to-day said they had received no report of the incident and declined to comment.

Recently owners of two yachts reported they were fired on under unwarranted circumstances near Toledo Yacht Club and announced they would carry the matter to federal enforcement officials in Washington.

300 IN GREECE DIE OF DENGUE

Simultaneously several cases of dengue have been reported at Saloniki.

The Government has established a free medical and nurse service to combat further spread of the epidemic.

ALBERTA PRIME MINISTER HERE FOR VACATION

Brownlee Refuses to Think of Work While Enjoying Victoria Holiday

One politician who is enjoying his Summer holiday and refuses to be bothered by business for the extent of his stay here is Hon. J. E. Brownlee, Premier of Alberta, who with Mrs. Brownlee and their two sons, is at the Dominion Hotel.

The Alberta Premier has been here a week and he said he likes it so well that he will be staying until about the first of next week.

Yesterday he went motoring all around the Saanich Peninsula. His motoring companion, besides the members of his family, was Hon. P. E. Baker, Minister of Education for Alberta. Mr. Baker brought his car to Victoria, and is spending part of the Summer camping at one of the beaches to get a change from inland, far-from-the-ocean life in Northern Alberta.

Italian Consul Shot In Face From Ambush

Nice, France, Aug. 23.—The Marquis de Muro, Italian consul at St. Raphael, a winter resort near Nice, was shot from ambush last night, but only slightly hurt.

The Marquis was fired at from behind a tree as he was leaving his house. The attacker used a shotgun and several pellets struck the consul in the face.

A maid servant who was walking beside him also was hurt.

Byrd Antarctic Ships Soon to Start South

New York, Aug. 23.—The Barquentine City of New York, flagship of the Byrd Antarctic Expedition, will leave Saturday for the voyage to Dunedin, N.Z., the first stop on the way to the Antarctic. Thirty-one men will sail in the craft, formerly the Samson. Frederick Melville of Lynn, Mass., is captain.

Commander Richard Byrd and the rest of his party plan to leave in September either in the whaler Larsen or the steamer Chick, the other two vessels of the expedition's flotilla.

COW PONY IS TURNED LOOSE TO FIND WAY ACROSS U.S.

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 23.—Molly, five-year-old cow pony, is loose in this district, with the task before her of finding her way back home to Gallup, New Mexico, 1,800 miles away. The saddle animal, turned loose yesterday, belongs to Boyd Jones, fourteen-year-old "Pony Express" rider from Gallup, who arrived at the Brule last week to deliver to President Coolidge at his Summer residence an invitation to attend Indian ceremonies at Gallup.

Boyd spent nearly three weeks on the ride to the Brule. He intends to return home by a more modern method, motoring with his father. To ship Molly back would cost $150, much more than he can afford. So Molly will have to shift for herself.

Around the neck of his pony Boyd fastened a bell, to attract attention to her. In a pouch, also strapped around her neck, was a plain written request that she be helped along the way.

The youthful cowboy, clad in a red shirt and leather chaps, has every confidence in Molly.

"She'll get back," he drawled. "She's got a colt down home, you know. If she doesn't I'll go out and find her."

TECHNICAL SCHOOL IS ESSENTIAL

By-law May Again Go Before Ratepayers Early in 1929, George Jay Intimates

Another Public School Also Needed to Accommodate Pupils

Owing to the anticipated overcrowding, particularly in the first year divisions of the Victoria High School, the School Board is considering a plan to shift at least one class of preliminary students to quarters at the Boys' Central School, according to an announcement made by George Jay, chairman of the Board, this morning.

"There is no question but that we will be badly pressed for room at the Victoria High School this year," said Mr. Jay. "We are converting our demonstration rooms in the chemistry department into classrooms and we have filled the basement rooms as well. But we have still to find more space."

"We will probably put a class in the Boys' Central School," he added.

ONLY TEMPORARY

But this expedient was only temporary, Mr. Jay pointed out. It would not be practicable to have a class of students at the Central School trotting over to the High School for lectures and back again to their registration room. Besides, Mr. Jay said, the Central School could ill afford to spare the space to High School students.

Questioned as to the possibility of the enrollment being so large that it might be impossible to accommodate all the pupils Mr. Jay asserted that every boy and girl in Victoria and the surrounding municipalities who wished a high school education here would be taken into the institution.

MAN CHARGED AFTER CRASH

Two Automobiles Met at Johnson St. Bridge and Wm. Brennan Appears in Court

Following a crash between two automobiles at the Johnson St. bridge last night, William T. Brennan was brought into City Police Court this morning to answer a charge of driving to the common danger. He pleaded not guilty, and the case was remanded until to-morrow morning.

The accident occurred at 11:10 p.m. between the vehicles of Brennan and another car driver by J. W. Mercer, 204 Skinner Street. The automobiles collided head-on, resulting in considerable damage to both vehicles. Mr. Mercer was slightly bruised, being struck in the chest by the steering wheel when the cars crashed. He was also slightly cut by flying glass.

ONE-ARMED MAN SLAYS BIG COUGAR

Charles Barrieau, one-armed hunter of Esquimaux, treed and killed a big cougar near Constance Cove at 2:30 o'clock this morning, after workmen on their way to the Empire Cannery had stumbled across the beast and watched him prowling into the woods.

Barrieau was notified by the workmen and with his dog he took the animal's trail. He was not long in putting the quarry into a tree, where he wounded it. But the cougar leaped for the underbrush and tried to get away. Barrieau's dog followed and its barking drew Barrieau to the spot where the snarling cat stood at bay. He killed the animal with a well-placed shot.

This is the third cougar kill reported here in the last few days for the district. Ed P. Arden at Sherrington Point and H. Vogel at Otter Point, each bagged an animal over the week-end.

AUTHOR NEARS END OF PANAMA CANAL SWIM

Panama, Aug. 23.—Again trailed by alligators and forced to grease his body to protect himself against the cold waters, Richard Halliburton, the author, yesterday reached the first gate of the Pedro Miguel Lock in his swim through the Panama Canal.

Halliburton hopes to conclude the fifty-mile journey from the Atlantic to the Pacific early this afternoon, the last stage being nine miles.

Bank Clearings Here Gain Quarter-million

Victoria bank clearings for the week ending to-day show a gain of more than a quarter of a million dollars over the totals for the corresponding week of last year, according to the figures issued by the Clearing House at noon.

The comparative figures are: For week ending to-day, $2,421,084. Same week last year, $2,160,163.

Next to Challenge Atlantic

Above are pictures of the two men who probably will make the next Atlantic flight attempt and their biplane, a Breguet. Dieudonne Costes (right), pilot, and M. Bellonte, mechanic, hope to leave France soon for a hop to New York. Their plane is a duplicate of the machine in which Costes and Joseph Lebris flew from Paris to South America and later toured the United States. Costes' first plane was named Nungesser-Coll. The new one, in place of a name, bears on each side a large painted question mark.

Government Has Majority Of 23,969

The Tolmie Government came into office in British Columbia with a big majority in the Legislature, but a majority of votes totaling only 23,969 over the combined vote of Liberal and other candidates.

Total figures for the election were compiled to-day. They show a total vote of 359,197 distributed as follows:

Conservative 191,583.
Liberal 143,094.
Labor and Independent 22,520.

Thus the Conservative candidates had a majority of 23,969 over all or not quite a ten per cent margin. The largest part of the majority was recorded in Victoria and Vancouver.

SCHOOL WORK TO BE UNDISTURBED

No Changes Without Careful Preparation, Says Hinchliffe

Changes in the educational system of British Columbia will only be made very slowly, and as the occasion demands Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, newly-appointed Minister of Education in the Conservative Cabinet of British Columbia, stated this morning.

The Department of Education was one in which radical changes could not be suddenly made, the Minister emphasized. Not until the necessity for alterations was shown would any be made.

"I am working on the supposition that the men who were here before me were men of common sense and experience in the main, and that I do not know it all," said the Minister. "I do not think everything was correct, and they probably did not think so either."

"Upon the delicate machinery and smooth working of the educational system depends the progress of the whole of the young people of the Province attending school, and any radical changes suddenly made might set them back a whole year."

Any changes that were made would only be made after due preparation, so that there would be no unsettling upsets in school work, said Mr. Hinchliffe.

The Minister of Education was established in new offices this morning, his department heretofore being administered from the offices of the Premier when Dr. J. D. MacLean was both Premier and Minister of Education.

MISSION CITY SCENE OF FIRE

Building Occupied By Three Business Concerns Destroyed To-day

Mission City, B.C., Aug. 23.—A fire which threatened the whole west end of Mission, broke out at 3:45 a.m. to-day. Originating in the old post office block, rented to the Japanese Co-operative Association, it spread rapidly to the adjoining premises and had a strong hold before the alarm was given.

The volunteer fire brigade rendered excellent service, and with a good water supply, saved the new post office block from destruction.

FORTY YEARS OLD

The former post office building, which was erected about forty years ago, was one of the oldest in the town. The occupants of it, besides the Japanese Co-operative Association, were W. Sheran, shoe repairer, and Charles E. Boothby, who lived in it and conducted a transfer garage and agency.

The block and contents are a total loss, due to fire and water damage. The loss is estimated at $12,000, partly covered by insurance.

PRINCE AT COAST PORT

Prince George Joins Cruiser in Vancouver; Will Sail For Esquimaux Shortly

Vancouver, Aug. 23.—"It is wonderful to be in Vancouver again so soon." These were the first words of Prince George, youngest son of King George and Queen Mary, when he stepped from his private car at the C.P.R. station at 10:30 this forenoon to meet Acting Mayor F. C. Gibbons and a group of aldermen who were there to welcome him informally to the city.

The Prince shook hands with the civic delegation and made his way from the platform to the main entrance of the station. He was driven to the dock and went aboard the British light cruiser Durban, reporting for duty after a leave of absence.

TO ATTEND DINNER

The Prince accepted the city's invitation to a dinner in his honor next Tuesday night and chatted about different topics with the civic delegation. He told the aldermen of his satisfaction at viewing the wonderful harvest which he saw as he passed across the prairies.

When the Prince went aboard his ship he reported to Captain G. L. Coleridge for duty. He is a lieutenant and takes up duty as ship's interpreter in French. It was the Prince's day to go back to work and, judging by his happy appearance, he was pleased at the thought of donning uniform again and joining his brother officers.

NEW HUNT IS MADE FOR TWO NORTH AIRMEN

Motorboats Sent Out When Greenlanders Say They Saw Hassell Plane Last Sunday

Copenhagen, Aug. 23.—The Greenland administration authorities here announced to-day that search for Bert Hassell and Parker Cramer, missing Illinois aviators, had been started along the west coast of Greenland from Cape Farewell, on the southern tip of Disko Bay, north of Mount Evans, a coastline of 800 miles.

Copenhagen, Aug. 23.—The Greenland Administration here received a message from the sheriff of South Greenland stating an aeroplane believed to have been the Greater Rockford, manned by Bert Hassell and Parker Cramer, was sighted Sunday morning along the southwest coast of Greenland.

The telegram from the sheriff said: "Machine reported absolutely without doubt from Fiskehaeset. The whole place, as well as Lichtenfels, observed the machine Sunday morning at 10:30, coming high from north-northwest and descending over Fiskehaeset."

The telegram, received here from the sheriff at 4:40 p.m., added that two motorboats were sent out to re-examine the search for the southern airmen in view of the new information available.

MARKS ON PLANE

While the sheriff on South Greenland did not give the "national marks" seen on the plane, this was understood here to mean the United States markings, as the inhabitants of the town had been instructed to be on the lookout for the United States fliers.

There was no indication in the message as to the probable landing place of the plane, but every effort will be made to discover this.

At least three groups of searchers are now patrolling the western Greenland coast.

FROST REPORTS SEND WHEAT UP

Wheat Prices on Winnipeg Exchange Rise More Than Three Cents During Day

Winnipeg, Aug. 23.—Reports of frost damage in Saskatchewan last night and predictions of further frost in the prairie province to-night caused heavy short covering on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day, and before noon wheat values had risen from 3 1/4 to 3 3/4 cents above yesterday's close. At that time October was quoted at $1.13 1/4, or 3 1/4 cents up; December at $1.13 1/4, or 3 1/4 cents up; and May at $1.19 1/4, or 3 1/4 cents higher.

"A delicate subject —but these girls must be told"

—a dean of women says

Unfortunately this delicate subject is seldom discussed. Now, a new patented process deodorizes this scientific sanitary pad completely

EVEN among girls who are very frank with each other, there is a question of daintiness, of fastidious personal care that is unfortunately seldom mentioned. Yet many women are unconsciously guilty. At certain times they are seriously offensive to others. With realization comes constant fear and worry.

Today these fears are ended. Science has discovered a way to counteract this offense.

Kotex now completely deodorizes Kotex has brought a new idea of feminine hygiene to women all over the world. In the past ten years they have learned new comfort, new ease of mind through this sanitary protection. Now, after years of work, a process has been perfected that completely, amazingly ends all odors. In Kotex laboratories the one remaining problem in connection with sanitary pads is solved.

Shaped to fit, too

Because corners of the pad are rounded and tapered, it may be worn without evidence under the most clinging gown. There is none of that conspicuous bulkiness so often associated with old-fashioned methods. And you can adjust the filler, make it thinner, thicker, narrower—to suit your own special needs. It is easily disposed of, no laundering is necessary. A new process makes it softer than ever before.

SLAYER OF TEN IS PUT IN JAIL

Chinese Who Killed Chinese on Ranch in California Is Captured By Officers

Grass Valley, Calif., Aug. 23.—Loy Young, Chinese slayer of ten Chinese on a ranch five miles from Fairfield yesterday, was captured by Sheriff George Carter and Deputy Sheriff Arthur Hellings. The rifle used by the slayer was found last night, and the automobile he had used to make his escape was found to-day between Colfax and Grass Valley.

The Chinese said he had watched Carter and Hellings trail him through the brush last night. He could easily have killed them both, he said.

POISON ATTEMPT ALLEGED
Loy Young said he had killed the ten Chinese on the Wong Gee ranch near Fairfield yesterday "because they tried to poison me."

He was taken to the courthouse at Nevada City and held for the Fairfield authorities, who were expected to arrive to-day.

Loy Young killed most of his victims with a hatchet.

He had been employed as cook on the ranch for three months.

Fairfield police said Loy Young had a reputation as a "killer" and had boasted of taking three lives in a long war.

RECENT KILLING
The ranch turned into a shambly yesterday by his hatchet and rifle also is used to strike and violent deaths.

The place has been leased to Chinese for forty years, and only recently the lease was shot and killed one of his countrymen who had run amuck with an axe and later set fire to two ranch buildings.

The ranch also is near where Roy Gardner, picturesque mail train robber serving a life term in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kansas, for a series of holdups throughout the West, found refuge after one of his escapes from custody.

NEW HUNT IS MADE FOR TWO NORTH AIRMEN

Greenland, and are on the western coast. The point of approximately 300 miles south of Mount Evans, the goal of the United States fliers in their 1,600-mile hop from Cochrane, Ont.

After refusing at Greenland, the airmen had hoped to fly to Iceland, and after a pause there, to fly to Stockholm, Sweden.

They left Cochrane, Ontario, at noon last Saturday.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Faint radio signals received in Chicago last night by two amateur operators to-day gave renewed hope that Bert Hassel and Parker Ormer, missing Rockford, Illinois, to Stockholm, Sweden, still are alive.

The signals were received by Dr. Charles E. Scofield and Irving Strauss on a wavelength other than that on which the fliers' monoplane, the Greater Rockford, was equipped to broadcast. This fact was partly explained, however, by a theory that the plane was trailing from the plane in flight might be changed when the wires were strung on the ground.

The signals, sent repeatedly, consisted of a series of five R's, followed by a series of five A's. After ten sets of them had been completed, two A's came in rapid succession.

WAS CODE SIGNAL

The latter designated the last position which the plane broadcast before messages from it were severed early last Sunday morning. According to a pre-arranged code, R indicated the plane was near Cape Chidley, at the northern end of Labrador, on its flight from Cochrane, Ont., to Mount Evans, Greenland.

The D appeared meaningless unless Cramer, experienced at radio, was trying to send a message stating the plane was down. The A had no meaning for the receivers. The signals, operators said, came clearly.

BASIS OF HOPES

The story of the radio operators increased hope of friends and relatives of the fliers at Rockford, Ill., which place they left on their proposed trip to Stockholm a week ago, that the aviators are on the ground in some inaccessible part of Greenland or Quebec. Crews of ships which have patrolled their course in Davis Strait, an arm of the North Atlantic, reported no trace of the fliers or the plane, but said that if the men had fallen into the sea there was no chance of their surviving long.

The motorboats the Greenland officials have sent out to search the southwest coast of Greenland supplement searches already in progress by Eskimos in their own craft and on shore and by the Canadian Arctic Patrol steamship Boethia, the crew of which is on the lookout as the vessel cruises to points on Davis Strait. A United States cutter also is searching.

PRINCE IS AT COAST ON VISIT

The Durban will be in Esquimaux in about a week.

TALKS WITH TOURISTS
Prince George was greeted just before he boarded the cruiser Durban by four members of the party of British boys and girls now touring Canada, and by the organizer of the tour, Frank Lacombe.

The Prince expressed great interest in the tour of the "Young Ambassadors," and said both he and the Prince of Wales, his brother, were conversant with it, the latter having been identified with the scheme. The Prince was particularly interested to learn it was planned to extend the tour to other parts of the Empire in the future.

TO GIVE LECTURES
Prince George chatted with each member of the party and commented that they must have enjoyed their tour inasmuch as they looked so well despite their arduous itinerary. He questioned them as to what use they intended to make of their experience. He was told many of the delegation of fifty were planning to give lectures and write newspaper articles concerning the tour upon their return to Great Britain.

The party meeting Prince George stayed over in Vancouver, especially to do so, the main body going on to Winnipeg last night. Those present were Etta Buchanan, Stirlingshire; Nora R. Kerby, Liverpool; Charles A. Hargrave, Newbury, and Robert W. Riddle, Newcastle.

SCHOOL WORK TO BE UNINTERRUPTED

HIGH SCHOOL PROBLEM

The pressing need of more accommodation at the High School, which has led to two rooms at the Central School being pressed into service for High School scholars, was called to the attention of the Minister linked with the suggestion that the establishment of a technical school would relieve the situation. Whether the Department of Education would renew the offer of a grant for a technical school should Victoria on a second vote change its decision and express its approval of it, Mr. Hinchliffe was not prepared to say.

"That is the proposal Victoria turned down," he remarked. "It would be one of the matters I should consult with my colleagues and with Dr. S. J. Willis, Superintendent of Education, as these matters are decided."

EDUCATION CONFERENCE
Mr. Hinchliffe this morning was invited to attend the conference of deputy heads of the departments of education of the provinces of British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, which is proceeding in the members' room of the Parliament Buildings.

Dr. S. J. Willis, Dr. R. Fletcher of Manitoba and Dr. J. H. Ross of Alberta were among those in attendance. Discussion on text books, rural schools and other subjects of mutual interest took place.

Hon. Fernin Baker, Minister of Education for Alberta and Dr. J. H. Ross of Alberta were listed as speakers to-day.

EXHIBITION IS NOW IN BEST CONDITION WITH AWARDS MARKED

HAPPY PATRONS
The gaily-illuminated grounds were congested until closing time last night, merry-makers enjoying the many attractions of the many attractions of the Midway. Manager W. F. Browning of the Browning Amusement Company, who has the concession for the amusement, to-day expressed gratification at the patronage accorded all the attractions. "We did well last year in Victoria, and because of that success I brought many additional attractions to this year's show," he said. "We have been accorded better support than that received in many much larger cities than Victoria," said Mr. Browning.

CATTLE RIBBONS OUT
With completion of judging in the livestock division, the Cattle Building has blossomed out in colors, long strings of ribbons won here and at other exhibitions being stretched over the heads of the magnificent animals which fill the building to capacity. Many of the exhibitors have gone to much trouble to decorate their accommodations, and visitors are gladly given information by courteous attendants.

ALBERTA PRIME MINISTER HERE FOR VACATION

"It is very charming here," said Premier Brownlee, and Mr. Baker said that he agreed with him.

Frank S. Grant, city attorney of Portland, Ore., and widely known for his fraternal activities, has been on a motor trip up the coast, and last night crossed over to Victoria to renew acquaintances with his old friend, Stephen Jones.

With Mr. Grant at the Dominion Hotel are Mrs. Grant and their two daughters, Arabella and Lydia. They are planned to go on to-morrow, motoring up the Island.

Rt. Hon. Sir Joseph Ward, former prime minister of New Zealand, passed through Victoria last night, and called on the Orangist for the Antipodes. Another noted person who passed through Victoria late yesterday, and did not stay at any of the hotels, was Anthony de Rothschild of London, member of the hotel banking family, who is touring Canada with Mrs. Rothschild and Mr. and Mrs. De Becker of Belgium.

Among the Vancouver people who came over this morning for a few days in Victoria at the Empress Hotel are Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Foxworth, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rosenbaum, Mr. and Mrs. Olof A. Lundberg and their son, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rosenbaum. At the Dominion there arrived Mr. and Mrs. E. K. May of Vancouver.

Hon. W. C. Shelley, B.C.'s new Minister of Finance, also arrived to assume personal direction of his department at the Parliament Buildings. From Calgary there are: Mr. and

TECHNICAL SCHOOL IS ESSENTIAL

"We owe this to our young people," he said. "What a bitter disappointment it would be for those youngsters to study and to pass their entrance examinations, only to find that there was no room for them at high school."

ONE SOLUTION

There was but one solution of the school problem here, said Mr. Jay, and that was a second opportunity for the ratepayers to vote on the Technical School by-law. The referendum which was defeated last Spring will be before the taxpayers again early in 1929, Mr. Jay intimated.

"If this by-law is passed," he said, "it will relieve the situation for the beginning of the 1929-30 school year, which differs from the calendar year in that it starts in September. The new school is the one solution for our difficulties."

BIG INCREASES

There had been a larger percentage increase in technical and commercial school students here than was the case in the arts school, in the last two years, according to Mr. Jay. The technical school would thus relieve high school congestion considerably and allow for further expansion over a period of many years.

By September we will have a full report of enrollment and at that time we will make final decision as to our actions in the School Board," said Mr. Jay.

"But we will discuss the situation at the next meeting of the Board and go into every phase of it in detail. We admit that it is a serious problem and one which must be speedily and satisfactorily solved."

ANOTHER SCHOOL

"I think it is likely that when the public schools open we will find the accommodation pretty well exhausted," Mr. Jay went on. "Probably we will have to build another public school shortly. I don't know where it would be. Possibly in a more central district. This, too, we must consider carefully."

PREACHING VS. PRACTICING

FROM TIME TO TIME DR. TOLMIE will be reminded of the pledges he gave on various matters in his pre-election manifesto. So far, what reminders he has had have come from his own party newspapers, which, not being as familiar with the actual workings of our administrative services as the Doctor and his colleagues will be before very long, very likely will embarrass rather than help the new Government by their advice at this stage. As we pointed out yesterday, the new ministers will find that many of the policies they proposed when they were in opposition are impracticable. For example, some of them promised radical reductions in taxation, although the leader himself in his manifesto was very cautious on this subject, as well as on other matters with which he dealt in that document.

As far as taxation is concerned, the Premier's difficulty will not be in trying to reduce it so much as in trying to prevent it from being increased. Certainly there is not likely to be any reduction of the expenditures upon public works, because there are thirty-five supporters of the Government who will see to that. There can be no reduction in the fixed charges, and we still have the P.G.E. with us. Somebody suggested during the campaign that the Government might effect a saving by discontinuing its grants out of liquor profits, racing proceeds and other sources of revenue, to the municipalities. But if it did this the municipalities would have to increase their own taxation. In Victoria that increase would be not less than three mills on the dollar, so that form of provincial economy would leave the situation as bad as, if not worse than, it was before.

A significant indication of the difficulty Dr. Tolmie is bound to meet in reducing expenditure is presented by the composition of his cabinet, his first official act as Premier. In that cabinet are nine ministers in receipt of salaries, including himself. The ministry with which Mr. Brewster began the Liberal regime in 1916 had eight salaried ministers, including himself. This continued to be the number of ministers for some years, after which it was reduced to seven, and more recently, until the appointment of Mr. Donaghy and Mr. Ian MacKenzie, the cabinet consisted of five salaried members. We are not criticizing Dr. Tolmie because his cabinet is larger and more costly than that of any of his predecessors; that criticism logically should come from the morning paper, which used to declare that a Liberal ministry of eight was too large for the needs of this province. In our judgment there will be plenty of work for all of the present ministers, and there will be no union hours for them either. We mention the incident merely to show that while it is easy to preach economy in opposition, it is hard to practice it in the Government. Incidentally, the public must bear in mind that by implication it almost gave Dr. Tolmie a blank cheque to fill in at his own discretion.

MR. BENNETT OUT OF STEP

THE PEOPLE OF OSHAWA MUST HAVE smiled as they heard or read the doleful story of Canada's condition which Hon. R. B. Bennett recently related in that thriving community. It was about the last place in the Dominion he should have selected for a blue-ribbon discourse. The reason may be found in a recent special issue of The Oshawa Daily Times. From this we learn that a population of 4,394 in 1901 had grown to 7,436 in 1911, 11,940 in 1921 and to approximately 25,000 at the present time. In fact, it is being called "a great baby city."

Other details about the progress of Oshawa are interesting. We note in the special issue of The Times to which we have referred that 4,670 of its population own their own homes; that the value of its manufactured products in 1927 was $80,000,000, a record exceeded by only two other cities in Ontario; that its industrial payroll is more than $10,000,000; and that the value of construction last year was $5,255,000, or sixth in Canada. Well may it be said that Mr. Bennett had his "nerve" to select Oshawa for one of his favorite dissertations on Canada's gradual decline under a Liberal Government!

FLIES IN THE OINTMENT

ALLIED TROOPS STILL ARE ON GERMAN territory. Their presence no doubt is viewed from two standpoints by the German people. Those who are doing business with them probably are not in a hurry to get rid of them. Those who are not still may be experiencing a sense of wounded pride. In the interests of friendship between nations which formerly were at war it would seem to be good business to withdraw them. Such a course would be a departure from the terms of the Treaty of Versailles; but the European atmosphere is vastly different now from what it was in the Hall of Mirrors a little more than nine years ago; and a good deal has happened in the interests of peace since then.

Germany has announced her intention, if it is not possible to attain her object any other way, of bringing the matter before the League of Nations at its Assembly next month. It is an interesting point just now. Representatives of the former Allies and Germany will meet in Paris to sign the Kellogg Treaty next Monday. That will furnish a striking contrast to the meeting of nine years ago. It would seem to be more in keeping with the spirit which is expected to be manifested there if some assurance could be given Germany, then or before, that the former Allies are willing to remove the reminder of a condition the repetition of which all are to pledge themselves to prevent. By the same token, Japan's participation in the event on Monday appears somewhat anomalous when placed alongside the course of action which she is pursuing in Manchuria. There is no suggestion that these unfortunate factors will cause any trouble at all. But the powers involved will have little cause for complaint if some of the scoffers at peace movements point to these things as ground for their cynicism.

GOVERNOR SMITH'S POSITION

IF ANY DOUBT EXISTED ABOUT GOVERNOR Al Smith's attitude towards prohibition, he cleared it up in his formal acceptance speech. If he shall be elected President of the United States next November, he will do his best to "preserve, protect and defend the Constitution." But in accordance with the constitutional duty imposed upon him he would "recommend to the Congress" such measures as he may judge "necessary and expedient." He believes there should be changes in the Eighteenth Amendment and he will advise Congress accordingly; "it will then be for the people and the representatives in the national and state legislatures to determine whether these changes shall be made."

Competent observers in the last few years have advanced many arguments in support of their contention that the people of the United States will not sanction any interference with the Eighteenth Amendment. They point to the prosperous condition of the greater part of the American people, the number who own their own homes and automobiles, and the size of savings bank deposits. They point to the influence of the younger generation which, except in rare instances, is a stranger to alcohol. They consider that these factors combined are strong enough to discourage a change in any form. Governor Smith is a believer in temperance and justifies his attitude towards prohibition in this way:

We have not achieved temperance under the present system. The mothers and fathers of young men and women throughout this land know the anxiety and worry which have been brought to them by their children's use of liquor in a way which was unknown before prohibition. I believe in reverence for law. To-day disregard of the prohibition law is invidiously eating respect for all law. I raise, therefore, what I profoundly believe to be a great moral issue involving the righteousness of our national conduct and the protection of our children's morals.

The "wet" and "dry" issue now is fairly joined between the two presidential candidates. Mr. Hoover is implacably "dry." Mr. Smith is on the other side. There are "wets" and "drys" in both political camps. Are all the prophets to be confounded? Not so very long ago we would have hesitated to predict a "wet" Ontario. A surprise may be in store for us across the border.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

BRITISH SETTLERS

The Saskatoon Star

If the British Government has in mind a prospect to train for agricultural pursuits on a wide scale urban dwellers, particularly those who are of rural stock and only shortly removed from the land, there may be found a means of further increasing the flow from Britain. With this proviso, however, that in no circumstances will Canada obligate itself for capital expenditures to enable such settlers to establish themselves.

CAPITAL AND IMMIGRATION

The Manitoba Free Press

Canada is willing enough to help in the establishing of people here once they have been provided with funds to give them a start. Or, better still, if funds are provided from Britain for expenditures which will enable the newcomers to earn their living and obtain employment while they are taking root. It cannot be over-looked that the good old times of immigration of 400,000 and more people a year were those when large sums were being expended on development work, largely by British capital. The moral is plain enough; precedents can be found going back a long way in the history of this country, pointing to the fact that successful colonization was only achieved simultaneously with large capital outlays.

A COSTLY PROCESS

The Indianapolis News

(A prohibition enforcement campaign in New York costing $60,000, has resulted in the indictment of 129 persons. Included "light lunches" at $92.80 and champagne at $35 a bottle.) If it costs $60,000 to get evidence against twenty-six New York speak-easies, it is clear that the federal government is likely to go broke before it completes its New York enforcement campaign. Other parts of the country will have to be visited, for there must be no favoritism. Extending the campaign to include even all populous centres is far too expensive unless there is a special session of congress to appropriate spendthrift accounts for dry agents. The country is, of course, glad to know that some effort at law enforcement is being made in New York. It speaks well for the government's regard for law and order. But the price is high. It suggests that where the prohibition law is unpopular the government is likely to find itself on the losing end of a spending contest over enforcement.

BRIDGE MADE EASY

by W.W. Wentworth

(Abbreviations: A—ace; K—king; Q—queen; J—jack; X—any card lower than 10.)

OPENING BLINDLY

In the previous installment we discussed the four most desirable opening leads when the declarer has named a suit. But the necessary holdings for these leads do not always occur. Below are other examples which should cover practically every situation.

All of the following leads are fraught with danger, as they may place your partner in a vulnerable position and help the declarer establish winning cards.

Fourth from top lead—For want of a better lead, open a four card suit as Q X X X, J X X X, or 10 X X X or X X X X with the lowest in the suit.

Weak three card suit—A lead from Q X X, J X X, 10 X X or X X X often leaves your partner in a maze as to your holding and is not desirable. The lead from K J 10 is also undesirable.

Doubleton lead—A lead from a two card suit, as J X, 10 X, X X, A X or K X is decidedly undesirable.

Wasted lead—Hold A X X or A X X X, avoid leading these suits without capturing opponents' king or queen. If you do open these suits, lead the ace.

Least desirable lead—The ten-ace suits as A Q 10, A J 10, A Q X, A J X.

CABINET TASK WAS EXCITING FOR PREMIER

Hon. S. F. Tolmie Warns Electors to Prepare For Dominion Fight

The task he faced in forming the new Conservative Cabinet was the main theme of a talk by Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Premier of British Columbia, at the picnic of the Esquimalt Conservative Association yesterday afternoon. Dr. Tolmie made a passing reference to Dominion politics, advising Conservative workers to be prepared as the next election, he said, would be held before very long.

"There is no reason for believing that the best that are within the group of Conservative members of the House are within the Government," said Dr. Tolmie. "I could not crowd thirty-five men into eight positions, and that was the task that I was faced with."

He went on to say that when the suggestion was made that His Honor might refuse to accept some of the ministers whom he had suggested he had replied that if the administrator had done so there was plenty of good material in the party to choose from.

The Premier made clear that when he addressed himself to the task of filling his Cabinet he made first choice of Hon. R. H. Pooley, the member for Esquimalt. He said that there was no question in his mind as to Mr. Pooley being entitled to any position that he desired in the Cabinet. He had earned this by his long services to the party and by the arduous and unselfish work he had done as House leader of the party.

RECEIVES SUPPORT

"The events of yesterday," said Dr. Tolmie, "was the climax to a great episode in my life which had its beginning at Kamloops."

Since that time he said he had received the hearty support of the Conservatives of the Province. The election was an indication of what the party could accomplish. It had a tremendous effect throughout the whole of the province.

He advised the keeping of the machinery of organization ready for the next Dominion election, which would not be long in coming.

STOCKTAKING

"The first thing that would be done was that which a business man would do; and this was to take stock," said the Attorney-General. "There are changes to be made, some of them changes of policy. These are going to be made with the consent of my chief, and I will steer my course, and nothing but the better judgment of my chief will make me deviate from that course."

In the short programme of speeches that were given, C. H. Dickie, M.P., extended his congratulations. Hon. S. L. Howe, Provincial Secretary, referring to the platform on which he stood as a rock projecting above the ground, said that the platform was significant of that laid down by Dr. Tolmie. He agreed that Mr.

Pooley was entitled to the highest honor that could come to him. Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, said he had no fear with respect to the administration of justice in the Province under Attorney-General Pooley.

H. D. Twigg, M.P. for Victoria, said that the members of the new Cabinet were not only to be described as honorable, but as honest.

PRETTY WEDDING AT ST. MATTHIAS

Dean of Columbia Unites Miss Kathleen M. Davies and John R. Kerr

The little church of St. Matthias, Poul Bay, was the scene of a pretty wedding last night at 8.30 o'clock, when Kathleen May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Davies, 1418 Ross Street, became the bride of John Rutherford Kerr, son of the late William Kerr and Mrs. Janet Kerr, 208 Menzies Street. The bride is a niece of the late Capt. Fryatt of the British mercantile marine, who was executed by the Germans during the war.

For the happy occasion the church had been beautifully decorated by girl friends of the bride in a color scheme of pink and white, dahlias, sweet peas and white lilies. The altar was adorned with a large arrangement of pink and white flowers, and the arch under which the young couple stood while the Dean of Columbia performed the ceremony.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Davies, in a gown of grey crepe. The reception was given by the bride and groom, who were assisted by the bridesmaids, Misses Kathleen M. Davies, sister of the bride, and Misses Kathleen M. Davies, sister of the bride, and Misses Kathleen M. Davies, sister of the bride.

FOLK DANCING TO BE ON SYLLABUS

Musical Festival Committee Planning For 1929 Event

Last evening a meeting of the directors of the Victoria Musical Association was held in the committee room in the City Hall, the president, George Watson, in the chair. Reports of the various committees for the 1929 Musical Festival were heard, several of these committees having been hard at work during the summer.

The syllabus committee suggested a few new classes added to the competitions of last year, the one of perhaps the most universal interest being that of folk dancing. This class was introduced in the British Columbia Musical Festival in Vancouver last year and proved one of the most attractive and popular classes. A few other minor changes had been made.

The musical selections committee reported their work still incomplete. It is expected, however, that that work will be completed by the next meeting in September. The finance committee presented a tentative budget which gave some idea of the work necessary along various lines to finance the Festival next spring. That committee will soon have books of membership tickets ready.

SHELVE QUESTION OF RENEWAL OF SCHOLARSHIPS

University Women Discuss Loan Fund; Mrs. H. E. Young Opposed to It

Vancouver, Aug. 23.—"Shall the travelling scholarship offered every year by the Federation of University Women's Clubs of Canada be renewed at the discretion of the scholarship committee or shall a loan fund be established to enable an advanced student doing research work in a foreign country to work for a second year in order to finish his research and acquire her Ph.D. degree?" this question, which was discussed at the Wednesday session of the federation in Hotel Vancouver, is one of the most outstanding to be considered at the meetings.

After considerable discussion, on both the financial and psychological questions arising, it was finally moved that the matter be tabled until the delegates could return to their local clubs, discuss the matter and present a decision that could be laid before the executive meeting next year. The executive was given power to act on the judgment of the majority of the clubs. It was agreed that a statement of the finances involved would also be presented to the executive.

In the discussion arising Mrs. H. E. Young of Victoria pointed out the advisability of making a student stand on her own feet and not be dependent on financial support from scholarships. Dr. MacInnes of this city stated the opposite view of the case when she suggested that a student engaged in research work would lose a great deal of time and money in order to earn money and then return to the foreign country where she was studying.

AT THE THEATRES

"PAINTED POST" IS FOX PICTURE AT COLUMBIA

"Painted Post" is a picture of the film, claims that Tom Mix can outshoot any other Western star of the films.

"Painted Post" who has travel for many years with Buffalo Bill giving exhibitions of marksmanship, was on location with Mix and was doing a few stunts to amuse the cowpunchers. One of the stunts was to have thrown in the air, simultaneously, three 38 cartridges measuring 1 1/4 by 3/4, firing from the hip. Jones performed two of the stunts before they reached the ground. The stunt was repeated for Mix, and

Where To Go To-night

Columbia—"Painted Post."
Variety—"Prisoners of the Storm."
Capitol—"Lady Raffles."
Coliseum—"Dawn."
Dominion—"Drums of Love."
Playhouse—"The Whip Woman."

He succeeded in perforating the three of them.

Speaking of stunts, Mix has a few more than the usual in his current Fox film, "Painted Post," now playing at the Columbia Theatre. A novelty for Westerns is the logical introduction into the story of a stranded troupe of Theatricals with an ensemble of sixteen chorus girls. Featured roles in support of the star

"PRISONERS OF STORM" SHOW AT VARIETY THEATRE

One of the most famous and popular authors alive to-day wrote the story which provides the plot of "Prisoners of the Storm," the Universal-Jewel starring House Peters, which is being shown at the Variety Theatre to-day. Judging from the number of copies of his books which have been sold, James Oliver Curwood ranks as one of first four authors living. His books have sold into the millions of copies, not only in America and Canada, but in Europe and South America. According to publishers' reports, Curwood, Harold Bell Wright, Elmer Glyn and Zane Grey have sold more copies of their works than any other writers.

PLAYHOUSE FILM IS FINE STORY OF POST-WAR DAYS

Hedda Hopper played her third role for First National in as many months in "The Whip Woman," the First National picture presented by Robert Kane which is now showing at the Playhouse Theatre. The others were "The Drop Kick" and "French Dressing." Antonio Moreno and Estelle Taylor are featured in "The Whip Woman," a dramatic tale with its locale in Hungary immediately following the World War.

ESTELLE TAYLOR STARS IN STORY NOW AT CAPITOL

There are many surprises in "Lady Raffles," the Columbia production featuring Estelle Taylor, which is being shown at the Capitol Theatre all this week. The plot revolves around a skilful young woman, who has the title which gives the picture its name. The awakening of love suddenly terminates her career but not until the girl through strategy and still brings a dangerous pair of jewel thieves to justice. The story is set against a background of society life and the plot development involves many unexpected situations which hold the interest and create an element of breathless suspense.

In the strong cast with Miss Taylor are such names as Roland Drew, Lilian Tashman, Ernest Hilliard and Winifred Landis. The picture was made under the direction of R. W. Russell from a story by Jack Jungmeyer and Fred Stanley adapted to the screen by Earl Hudson.

On the stage at the Capitol Theatre this week there are three very good acts of vaudeville, which include Ruth and Malloy, in a singing and dancing specialty. The Swiss Duo, a piano and yodelling pair; Ray McRay, late of the Four Playmates, in song selections; Harold Bechtel, the singing M.C. and the concert orchestra complete the bill.

"DAWN" IS FINE STORY OF WAR

War Work and Death of Famous Nurse Portrayed at Coliseum This Week

What was the underlying motive for the insistence of German military authorities in Brussels that Edith Cavell be put to death?

Protests were registered by German civil authorities, to no avail. Vehement objections, couched finally in language beyond the boundaries of diplomatic usage, were made by American consular officials. These were ignored.

The suggestion, emanating from the Spanish minister that the German civil governor communicate with the Kaiser, was rejected because the governor was not on terms of personal friendship with his sovereign. But, judging by the indignation of the Kaiser, after Cavell's death—an indignation that may have arisen from fear of the effect of the incident upon the civilized world rather than from humanitarian motives—the German governor lost an opportunity of becoming the personal friend of his emperor.

However, it is possible that even the Kaiser himself could not have revoked the death decree, so cast-iron was the military discipline he and his co-war lords had built up.

The blame seems to rest with the then military governor of Brussels, who was an adamant slave of the war machine if ever there was one. He had replaced the former military governor because of the failure of the policy of conciliation towards the Belgian people—the Belgians refusing to submit good-naturedly to German rule. The new military governor decided that the time had come for "the severest penalties pitilessly inflicted."

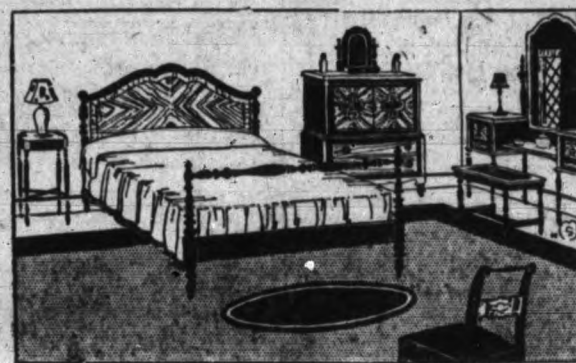

But was his attitude due solely to a desire to subdue the Belgian population, or was it tinged with personal arrogance and egotism? This question probably will never be settled. At any rate, he instructed the German prosecutor at the court-martial to demand the death penalty, and the prosecutor so magnified Nurse Cavell's actions that the court decreed capital punishment.

It was then not too late for the military governor to reduce the sentence, but he not only signed the order, but instructed that the penalty be carried out immediately, promulgation of the decree to be posted after death. Even the civil governor was kept in the dark as to this decision, and when hearing rumors, the latter in great agitation intruded into the military governor's private box at the theatre the evening before the execution. He received nothing but a curt rebuff for his pains.

The military governor regarded the "interference" in his plans as diplomatic tommyrot emanating from ill-placed fear in the minds of those politicians. For himself, he gloried in the fact that he was a "soldier," not a "politician." Sentiment found no place in his routine.

The story of Edith Cavell's war work and execution are vividly pictured in the celebrated film "Dawn," which opened at the Coliseum on Monday and will remain here for the balance of the week, matinees starting at 2:30, night shows at 8:30.

"In the film, as a work of art, worthy of Nurse Cavell? You may take my word for it that it is. I hope it will take its lesson to the end of the earth."

with genius, could produce such realism.

Miss Esther Shepherd also gives high praise, saying that Miss Cusack's playing is very sensitive and fine. Miss Shepherd is a well-known dramatic critic and writer.

Pamela Pearl Jones, head of the department of English at the University of Washington, said: "I have seen real joy depicted on the stage twice. Once, when Pavlov danced, and again to-night in Miss Cusack's acting. Her performance was refined, polished. The Spanish play in which she took part was a poem in every sense of the word."

Colonel E. Hofer, editor of The Latent, says: "Her acting in 'Dear Brutus' was full of sensibility, delicacy and a fine perception of values."

Dr. Alice Smith, M.D., F.R.S.A., member of the Dramatic League of America, said of Miss Cusack's acting: "Miss Cusack revealed the spirit of 'Dear Brutus' in a way which left a lasting impression."

The Passing of the Third Floor Back" will be staged at the Royal Theatre on September 7 and 8.

LIONEL BARRYMORE PLAYING LEADING ROLE AT DOMINION

Directing a motion picture is in many respects as difficult an undertaking as conducting a great symphony orchestra.

"Instead of guiding tone gradations as in music," says D. W. Griffith, who made "Drums of Love," now on an extended run at the Dominion Theatre, "a director of pictures must be watchful of the emotional tonalities of his players if he wants an harmoniously acted scene."

There are other points of similarity between a director and a conductor of music. For instance: We both have to rehearse those who are taking part in the orchestration of sounds or acting.

"If one player overacts, he is bound to make himself ridiculous because it becomes immediately apparent that he is off key; the same would apply if a drummer were to suddenly pound on his instrument during a soft operatic passage."

An equal balance must be maintained at all times, the director declares, and it is up to the man making the picture to see to it that cheap comedy does not invade his tense dramatic scenes, or that no one player "steals" the action from the other.

In "Drums of Love," in which Mary Philbin, Lionel Barrymore, Don Alvarado and Tully Marshall are featured, Griffith's problems were minimized by having such thoroughly experienced and sympathetic players to work with. "Drums of Love" was produced by D. W. Griffith for United Artists.

Heeney May Be Hard Rock But He Is Big Good Natured Chap

New Zealand Battler Who Tried to Lift Tunney's Crown Visits Victoria and Talks Freely About His Ring Activities; First Concern at Present Is Health of His Father; Thinks Old Bunch Will Fight in Eliminations Again, Which Causes Him Little Concern

There'll be no high hat for Tom Heeney should he ever win the world's championship.

Even though Tom, who is a big, good-natured chap and strong enough to wrestle a bear, is an international sports figure to-day, he has the glad hand out for everybody, and is willing to stand about and chat on anything from the proverbial "soup to nuts."

Tom arrived here last night on the Canadian-Australian liner Aorangi, en route to his home in New Zealand, where he will enjoy a good loaf, following his strenuous campaign in the United States which finally led to his eleven-round mauling at the hands of Gene Tunney, the retired champion.

Tom had along with him his bride of a few weeks and his three brothers, who came from "down under" to try to help Tom win the championship.

SEE THE "OLD GENT" Since Tom has sprung into such prominence he has not let about getting ready for the "high hat" brigade. He has not thought of Shakespeare or any of the old literary champions, and prefers to be just plain Tom Heeney, the same robust, rollicking lad who a couple of years ago did not know what it was to have a couple of extra whistles at one time.

Tom said that his main reason for going back to New Zealand was to see the "Old Gent" who is very ill according to the latest advices he has received.

"I don't know how long I'll stay down there," Tom said. "I want to find out how the old gent is and if he is not long for this world I'll stay till the end."

LOOKS AFTER HIS "AIN EOLE" There's no question about Tom having a soft spot in his heart for his "ain folk." He has given his three brothers a great trip. He showed them the sights of little old New York after the fight and now he wants to go home and make sure that the old folks are provided for. He has made plenty of money in the last eighteen months, and his first thoughts are for the ones who looked after him when he was a lad.

Tom has no concern about his future activities in the ring. When asked if he would consider a proposition to enter any elimination series which might be staged by Tex Rickard, he smiled and said he'd leave that to his managers.

"I'm going back home for a while," he stated. "And I guess in a little while they'll be looking for me. The eliminations will find the same old bunch. Sharkey, Paulino, Riko and the other boys fighting again. I'll be glad to take up the fight. Unless some new fighter springs up and cleans up the old bunch, I haven't much to worry about."

NOT FUSY Heeney was in town for about two hours, while two years ago the man who beat him, Gene Tunney, spent about half that time here. The two men are as opposite as the two poles. Heeney is a free and easy chap, who does not have to force a smile, and talks quickly without choosing his words any too well. All this is in contrast to Tunney.

Heeney is possessed of a tremendous pair of hands, much larger than Tunney's. When you shake hands with Heeney you feel like you're shaking a sledge hammer. Heeney's arms are massive and are more indicative of a wrestler. His arms do not swing as easily as Tunney's.

Tom is not over-fussy about his personal appearance. When he comes dressed with care, Tom would have to go a lot of training in the "high hat" business because he is not even used to a hat. He is a simple fellow who lets his unkempt locks protect him. Mrs. Tunney suggested Tom go to town and buy a cap, but when someone said that the stores were closed Tom seemed quite pleased.

Heeney expresses his opinions freely on matters pertaining to the ring. He was not surprised that many of the prominent eastern writers would come and knock at your door and want you to get up so they could look at you," said Tom.

Heeney had little to say about whether his corner would be at you whether the cause of the downfall at the hands of Tunney. Heeney is a sportsman first and last and refuses to take advantage of anyone.

LISTENED TO TUNNEY Jack Dempsey advised Heeney to keep Tunney's right arm in the clinches in order to wear out the champion and render ineffective his left. Heeney complied and told him to fight fair. "Okay," said Tom.

Again Heeney whipped over a wicked right to the jaw, one of his best blows of the fight, in an early round and Tunney again complained.

"Break clean," he said, and Tom said "Sorry" and did not do it again.

FERRONA SETH PRETTY WINNER AT THE WILLOWS

Brady Entry in B.C. Agricultural Association Handicap Runs Fine Race

Record Crowd Attends on Fourth Day of Meet; Several Good Prices Paid

In one of the prettiest races seen at the popular half-mile circle at the Willows for many a moon, Ferrona Seth, owned by Mrs. R. Brady, won the fifth event of yesterday's racing card.

Left behind at the start, she went to her knees as the gate went up, the gate little mare raced behind a fast field for the first half of the five furlong dash. Going into the second turn Jockey Trivet touched the whip to her and she went through the rest of the whole field of sprinters.

She passed Joe G. on the first post of the turn. Then Lux fell behind. Around Simony, on the outside and then past Babe Ruth to enter the home stretch in the lead. Trivet brought his mount through in a thrilling and amazing rush, taking the decision at the wire by one length. Simony, the favorite, was coming fast in the home stretch but had been forced to take up on the back stretch and could not cut down the winner's margin after he had been passed. Babe Ruth was third after racing Frank S. into submission in the first quarter.

RECORD CROWD

A record crowd for the present meet attended yesterday's racing. Around the betting stands, the fans were packed tightly and, owing to the limited space and place accommodations, the visiting public habit of waiting till the last minute to bet, many were shut out by the bell. The grandstand was overcrowded for each race and the benches near the entrance gate were filled with children and onlookers until the last race went to the post at 7:05 o'clock. The betting was in proportion to the crowd.

Undoubtedly the big surprise of the card was the repeat win of W. H. Munie's aged gelding Vic Munie, who won Monday, the punters laid off him in the second event yesterday while the Sidney men came home once in the third and fourth races.

Old Vic fooled them all when he came from behind on the last stretch under a fine ride by Jockey Duncan and out-gamed Sparrow in a long stretch drive to win by a nose. He returned his followers $36.70 on $2 straight tickets. Volley, the favorite, went out on top but finding the six and a half furlongs too far, dropped back on the stretch turn.

PRETTY DUEL Prior to the Little Hills engaged in a pretty duel for the honors in the fourth. Again it was a nose finish with Friar Tuck getting the edge. The two of them got to the front at the start of the present meet, all horses going out together from the barrier.

The jockeys on both Friar Tuck and Little Hills rode well but the latter probably lost the race when he failed to hug the rail closely on the turn.

OLIVE BURN was third. There were only two favorites in first money during the day. Little Smoke winning the first and Nippon, the favorite, in the second.

The one big disappointment of the day was the defeat of the favorite, Nippon, who was expected to win the cup, after a very strong. They may meet stronger competition, however, this season, from Hearts, who have introduced new blood into their team, notably Harkness, who up to now has been an amateur goalkeeper for Scotland and Queen's Park.

In the English first division the struggle for league leadership between Everton and Huddersfield; latter proved distinct disappointment last year, with Double Honors practically within their grasp.

Castoff Called To Aid Yanks Repel Threat Of Athletics

FRED HEIMACH

When the great crisis of the season, brought on by the collapse of a none too formidable pitching staff, overtook the New York Yankees, a hurry call for help was sent to the St. Paul American Association club and Lefty Heimach was dispatched to the camp of the champions as a lifesaver. It is always rather romantic to see a player from the minors rushed up to the aid of a major league club in distress, but in this case there is more than the usual drama. In calling upon Heimach to help fend off the rush of the Philadelphia Athletics, the Yankees called a former star pitcher for the Athletics several years ago, but he hurt his shoulder badly and Connie Mack couldn't make room for him while he was recovering and he tried to stick with the Red Sox and couldn't. He recovered in the minors and made such a good record that, of all the pitchers at their disposal, the Yankees called him as one of the best fitted for a most important mission. So, it may come about that, in what has the possibility of a tight pennant race, the best chance Mack has in hand in years may be ruined by a player race, the best chance Mack has in hand in years may be ruined by a player race, the best chance Mack has in hand in years may be ruined by a player race.

TILDEN OFFERS HIS ALIBI TO TENNIS HEADS

Contents He Wrote "Editorials" of Games and Not "Copy"

Offers Suggestion That in Future No Member of Team Should Write

New York, Aug. 23.—Although "business" will keep William T. Tilden from attending the meeting of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, which is to consider the charges against him of violating the amateur player-writer rule to-morrow, he already has presented his defence.

In a letter to Samuel H. Collom, president of the association released for publication to-day, Tilden presented his side of the case, denying any intention of violating either the letter or spirit of the rule.

TILDEN'S SUGGESTION Tilden offers the suggestion that to prevent such happenings in the future it should be the policy of the Davis Cup team that no player could write while he was a member of the team.

Tilden's letter in part follows: "These articles were written by me and were intended to be comment articles of an editorial nature concerning the playing form of Americans in Wimbledon, and were mainly to give an idea of how our men were shaping up toward the Davis Cup matches. Only a few individual matches were mentioned and none described in detail as a tournament means, in newspaper circles, to describe the play, round by round in detail from beginning to end of play."

Helen's Rival In Finals Is Only Question

Forest Hills, N.Y., Aug. 23.—Although a day of rain has postponed the decision for a short time, two rounds of play in the women's national tennis championship have seen Helen Jacobs confirm the pre-tournament predictions that she will oppose Helen Wills at various stages of the tournament.

That "Queen Helen" will repeat her victory of last year is hardly open to doubt, but whether the runner-up will be Mrs. Mollie Mallory, eight times winner of the title, or Helen Jacobs, second ranking only to Miss Wills among the Californians, or some unexpected brilliant player who can upset both of these outstanding stars is an entirely different matter.

CANUCKS FLASH THROUGH AGAIN

Canadian Olympic Athletes Win Meet Held With Scottish at Glasgow

Hampden Park, Glasgow, Aug. 23.—The Canadian Olympic athletes continued their British engagement yesterday when they defeated Scotland in an international track and field meet. The Canadians won six events, the Scots three, and a 440-yard race was won by the team composed of Percy Williams, Vancouver; J. Fitzpatrick, Hamilton; Harry Warren, Vancouver; Oxford Rhodes, scholar, and Ralph Adams of Hamilton.

The Canadians won the 440-yard relay in 42 4-5 seconds, and the 880-yard relay in 1:23.1-5.

The mile relay team of S. B. Glover, Edmonton; B. Little of Winnipeg; A. Wilson, Montreal, and Jimmy Bell, Winnipeg, won easily in 3:30.5 seconds. Bell, who took the baton from Wilson, trotted home in the final lap. Little won the scratch half mile race for Canada, and Bell later won the scratch individual quarter from McAllister, 1:05.1-5 seconds.

W. J. Montabone of Montreal crashed five hurdles in the 120-yard race, which was won by Allister Clark of Scotland in 19 seconds.

First three places in the mile scratch race were won by A. Doherty, Montreal; J. Walters, Hamilton, and D. Griffin of Hamilton, after a terrific finish.

A. W. Munro of Toronto, although limping, divided the high jump with Clarkson of Scotland.

Scotland won the four-mile race, in which Art Keay of Toronto was the Canadian competitor.

The pole vault went to Scotland without competition.

Gasoline Changes Greyhound's Spots

London, Aug. 23.—The greyhound, unlike the leopard, can change its spots. At Dunmore Park race track yesterday, a racing greyhound was marked in gasoline after winning a race by ten lengths. It came out of the bath minus a white tip on its tail and white pads on its feet and therefore was reassigned to a lower class race under another name last night.

Bookmakers had refused to accept any more bets and the officials decided on the bathing idea. A further inquiry will be held.

Leaders Glad To Get To New Parts After Their Bad Reverses

Giants Escape From Brooklyn to Pittsburgh While St. Louis Cardinals Break Away From Cincinnati; Two Points Still Separate Leaders; Athletics Gain on Yankees When Haas Kicks Out Home Run in Seventeenth Inning, Which Gave Eddie Rommel a Victory

The Giants have escaped from Cincinnati and the St. Louis Cardinals have cleared their premises of Brooklyn maulers—but neither of the events transpired one minute too soon. If things had gone on much longer as they were going, the National League pennant necessarily would have been awarded to the team capable of the most expert back peddling, which would have brought the Phillies in for serious consideration.

Shaded at Cincinnati yesterday by a score of 5 to 4, the cohorts of McGraw slipped into Pittsburgh to-day shorn of dignity but able to walk. New York still holds a margin over the Cardinals in the pennant race only because the Dodgers nipped the Redbirds yesterday by 3 to 2.

YOUNGSTERS IN LIMELIGHT IN WESTERN GOLF

British Stars and U.S. Veterans Fall in Bunches at Chicago

Bob o' Link Club, Chicago, Aug. 23.—Four members of the British Walker team were eliminated from the Western amateur golf championship along with the medalist of the meet and the defending champion, victims of six youngsters yesterday.

Gun Novony, formerly captain of the University of Illinois golf team, dethroned Ben Stein, Seattle, in his attempt to keep the crown. Kenneth Hiestert of the University of Chicago, lowered the colors of John Dawson, medalist, with the score of 72-69-141.

PICK OF BRITISHERS Lawrence Moller of Quincy, Illinois, a junior at Notre Dame, climbed the magic bean stalk of par and shaded off the golden head of Dr. W. Twidwell, 1927 British champion. And right after him, Rial Rolfe, once Western Conference champion, of the University of Illinois, shattered the hopes of U.S. Westerners.

It remained for Charles Fish of Joliet, an Illinois student, to eliminate T. A. Torrence, another British, and to the victor of Chicago, a former Williams student, fell the task of felling the present British champion, T. P. Perkins, 2 and 1.

Only three favorites came through the sixteen-hole round of yesterday. "Chick" Evans, formerly amateur and open titleholder, seeking his ninth Western championship, played par golf to defeat Dick Bookcamp of St. Louis, in the first round and Russell Martin, runner up in 1927, in the second, 6 and 5. Dr. O. F. Willing of Portland, Pa., defeated Northwest amateur and open champion, played the best golf of the day, being four under par, for thirty-four holes, to win from Douglas Casey of Chicago, 5 and 4, and from A. P. Wade, local player, 5 and 3. The third was Frank Dolp of Portland, Western title-holder in 1927. He handily won from Chester Williams of Bob o' Link, 4 and 3, and then by shooting a 33 on the first nine in the second round, put out Fish.

PAIRING FOR TO-DAY Thus the field was reduced to eight players, with Novony facing Willing, Rolfe pitted against Rolfe, Hiestert against Evans and Dolp meeting Couch.

Don Moe, eighteen-year-old Portland player, who led in the first qualifying round with 69, yielded to "Chick" Evans, golfing mayor of Quincy, Illinois, before the latter succumbed to Rolfe in the second round.

SIDNEY BEATS TILICUMS 6-3

Batting Rally in Sixth Gives Millmen Three-run Margin Over Visitors

In a game ending with the score at 6-3, the Sidney men defeated the visiting Tillicums in the Red's Service Cup series at Sidney last night.

The runs in the sixth, when Art Balcom, who had been pitching a good game for the clubmen, cracked gave the millmen their victory. During the contest the visiting pitcher allowed eight hits and struck out three.

Williams pitched a steady game for the winners sending six men to the plate via the strike-out route and allowing only four hits.

HOW THEY SCORED The Tillicums scored their tallies in the second, third and seventh innings while the Sidney men came home once in the second, twice in the third and three times in the sixth.

Skinner umpired, and the teams were as follows: Sidney—Lina, C. Williams, P. Brown, 1b, Sam 2b, Simpson, ss, Steele 3b, Darbyshire, cf, Gilman if, and Jackson if.

Tillicums—Hilton, c, Balcom, p, Steele 1b, Love 2b, Saville ss, Dunnett 3b, Doherty if, Barr, cf and Barnwell if. Remaining games in the series follow:

PICNIC PROCEEDS TO AID ATHLETICS

All Money Made at Labor Day Outing to Be Devoted to Playgrounds Fund

The committee in charge of the Labor Day picnic, which is to be held at the Willows Beach under the auspices of the Native Sons of Canada, completed arrangements for the occasion at a meeting Tuesday night. During the day a long programme of sports events, including novelty races as well as the usual track features, will be run off and will be followed by a dance at the Son's Hall in the evening.

The proceeds from the picnic will be devoted to the Playgrounds Fund which was started some time ago by the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The committee looking after the event believe that Victorians will be willing to rally to the support of the fund, which will be used to provide greater facilities for the development of first-class athletics in this city. In view of the success achieved by Canadians in the last Olympic Games, it is generally felt that greater opportunities should be given to local aspirants for honors at the next Olympiad, to be held in Los Angeles. As the picnic will aid in the work of providing places in which young athletes may have a real chance to prepare for such competitions, a large attendance is expected.

Pender Island

A most enjoyable evening was spent at Browning Harbor recently when a party of about forty friends met to surprise Mrs. Alex. Brackett on the occasion of her birthday. The celebration took the form of a beach fire, where the guests were entertained with songs and recitations. Little Mary McRae, gold medalist at the Vancouver Exhibition, gave a most expert performance of Highland dancing to the accompaniment of the bagpipes, played by her brother, Gordon, also a gold medalist in his class at the recent exhibition. At eleven o'clock the party adjourned to the house, where delicious refreshments were served under the capable management of Miss Jean Brackett.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brackett, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Fry, Mrs. A. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Garrett, Mrs. A. Aldridge, Mr. J. Simpson, Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Beattie, the Misses Mary Hamilton, K. Beattie, Grace Hoffman, Jean Brackett, Beth Brackett, and Master Lyall Brackett, all of Pender Island; Mr. and Mrs. F. M. McGregor and family, Mrs. Wm. Young and son, Mrs. Hood, and Miss Edith Bremner, all of Victoria; Mrs. Edith Lortie, Mary and Gordon MacRae, of Vancouver; Mrs. A. Currie and Master Hugh Currie, of Cloverdale.

The concert and dance which was held in the Hope Bay hall recently and arranged by the young people, was one of the most largely attended gatherings held here for some time, large parties having come from the other islands. The "Island Princess" brought a party of some forty persons from various points of Salt Spring. The first part of the programme consisted of songs and recitations. Those contributing were: the Misses Hood, Rev. W. T. Beattie, the Misses Bowerman, Major G. Boyer, and Miss Georgianna Wilson. Music was furnished by the community singing, led by Mr. Fred McGregor, was enjoyed by the crowd. At 10 p.m. a cafe, which was prepared and a number of prettily decorated baskets were auctioned off. Shortly afterward the floor was cleared and dancing enjoyed to the strains of Eton's orchestra of Puffin. A handsome sum was realized for the purpose of adding a much-needed kitchen to the hall.

A well attended garden fete was held in the grounds of Spencer Percival's residence. There were many varied attractions, including "Aunt Sally," shooting gallery, fortune-telling and clock golf. Tea was served on the lawn at individual tables, the weather being ideal for the event. A fair amount was raised as a result, in aid of the Port of Victoria Hospital.

Oliver Hicks and family are spending a holiday at Port Washington, in the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Grimmer, Senior.

C. W. Wood, of Courtenay, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. B. Johnston last week.

A pleasant little social gathering was held at the home of Mrs. R. E. W. Corbett, when Mrs. James Hood of Victoria, Presbyterian President of the Women's Missionary Society, addressed members of the local Auxiliary and their friends in an informal way. The Misses Edith and Etta Hood sang a duet, and Mrs. W. G. Wilson, of Victoria, also spoke a few words. Afternoon tea was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Mollison, and daughter-in-law, Mrs. S. P. Corbett.

Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Menzies and family are down from Barkan Beach on a short visit with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Davidson and daughter, and Mrs. Davidson, of Vancouver, have been holidaying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Davidson.

Mrs. Walton Bowerman and the Misses Bowerman spent a holiday in Victoria last week.

Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Beattie and Miss Katherine Beattie are leaving this week for Snohomish, Wash., where Mr. Beattie has received an appointment with the American Presbyterian Church. The people of the Island regret their departure, as they have endeared themselves to all during their short stay here.

Rev. W. G. Wilson, Mrs. Wilson, and family, who were spending the Summer at "The Maples," Browning Harbor, were obliged to shorten their holiday, through the sudden illness of Mrs. Wilson's mother, Mrs. Fraser.

Mrs. Maurice Quail and twin daughters, and Mr. Thos. Cocker, of Vancouver, are visiting Mrs. D. G. MacDonald.

Mrs. Herbert Bruce, of Victoria, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Roe, at Lifford Bay.

Miss Linfield, of Alberta, is a guest of Mrs. J. S. Stirling.

At the recent service conducted by the Rev. Archdeacon Laycock, at St. Peter's Church, Kathleen and Frank Symes and Clifford Stirling were confirmed.

Rev. and Mrs. Jas. Hood and the Misses Edith and Etta Hood, have returned to Victoria after a most enjoyable holiday here.

Mrs. (Dr.) T. J. McPherson, of Nanaimo, and Miss Amy Boyce, of the V. O. N. Victoria, are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Boyce.

Marketing Board Regulations to Be Considered By Government

Marketing problems of British Columbia fruit and vegetable farmers will receive early consideration from the new Conservative Government as soon as the departments are in working order and the positions still to be allotted have been distributed among the cabinet. Premier Tolmie said this morning.

The newly-appointed ministers would have to complete their "stocktaking" before surveys of industrial resources, public work contracts and other problems were faced.

The question of marketing, however, is brought to the front by reports that cheap United States apples threaten to break down apple prices in the prairie markets this year, following the removal of the Canadian dumping duty.

On the question of the British Columbia Marketing Board it is claimed by Sam S. Savage of Plunkett & Savage, one of the largest fruit distributing firms in Alberta, that the board has lost control of the situation.

The story of the "robin's pillar" in the new Christ Church Cathedral has led to a demand by visitors for photographs of the bird which built a nest and hatched its young near a pillar and scaffolding, six feet above the ground, undisturbed by the work of construction and its varied noises. Copies have now been made of an original photograph which shows the robin standing on the edge of its nest, a few inches from the capital of the pillar nearby. These photographs may be obtained at the Memorial Hall, 512 Vancouver Street, and at Litchfield's, Government Street, where an enlarged picture of the bird is being displayed.

Photographs will be given to the "Children's Corner" fund of the new cathedral.

DR. TOLMIE SPEAKS TO ROTARIANS

New Premier Speaks of Government Plans For Development of B.C.

Plans of the Conservative Government for the development of British Columbia through greater inter-provincial trade, wider advertising and furthering of basic industries were outlined by Premier S. P. Tolmie to the Victoria Rotary Club at luncheon to-day.

Dr. Tolmie was the chief speaker, and was present at the luncheon with the four Victoria members, Reginald Hayward, Mon. Joshua Hinchcliffe, Minister of Education; H. D. Twigg and J. H. Beatty.

Hon. W. C. Shelly, Minister of Finance, also was present.

The Premier was introduced by President Herbert Anson as "a very distinguished Canadian."

He accepted the honorary presidency of the club.

Premier Tolmie referred to the fast moving circumstances in which he had been placed since his selection as leader of the B.C. Conservative Party, reviewing his resignation from the Federal House, the strenuous campaign and the election. The exciting climax had been cabinet making, occupying sleeping and waking hours, said the Premier, as he remarked on the difficulty of choosing from thirty-four good men.

"I think I have selected a cabinet that will fill the offices well and will be a credit to British Columbia," he said.

"We have in British Columbia a wonderful province—second to none in the whole of Canada," he continued, outlining progress of the Province since 1871. "Mining, timber, fisheries and agriculture have been developed, but the surface has only been scratched, and there is plenty of room for further progress."

LASTING PROSPERITY

"There are many problems to solve. We must build a prosperity which will be lasting for generations," he said. The Premier suggested the duty of Rotarians in furthering the interests of the Province, mentioning the fine living conditions in B.C. and the duty of spreading the gospel.

SPREAD THE GOSPEL

"I would advise all business men to spread the gospel of British Columbia wherever they go—in trains, steamers and in cities."

Discussing inter-provincial trade, Dr. Tolmie saw greater possibilities for trade between British Columbia and the prairie provinces. There should be better understanding, better knowledge between these provinces, making for greater commerce and a more united Canada.

At the Palliser Hotel in Calgary, he had stressed to 700 guests the benefit of buying from the West and not from the South.

Railway lines, buyers and sellers and the Canadian people would realize the benefits of buying from the West and not from the South.

"Are we making the best of our opportunities?" asked Dr. Tolmie as he quoted figures on the climate of the Province, showing the conditions to be among the best for the development of the human race. Fishing, boating, and other outdoor recreations were enjoyable at all times in the Western Victoria is not snow and ice-covered.

"Are we making enough noise about this?" he asked.

Dr. Tolmie stressed the slogan "Buy Home Products" and the real results which continued support will give.

THE FAIR

"How many of you have been to the fair? Here is an institution which will become of the greatest value to the city," he continued.

In Toronto an exhibition spirit had been created and the fair was known as one of the greatest fair cities on the continent. Victoria could be developed along these lines, he said.

The Premier suggested representatives of the Board of Trade should visit the Calgary stampede to gain ideas for the Victoria exhibition and also to aid inter-provincial trade.

He urged more permanent and better arranged exhibition buildings at the Willows, moving off the race track and beautification of the exhibition grounds.

"When we came through the gates under such conditions we would not have our nostrils charged with the odor of hot dogs and onions but would be greeted with a beautiful panorama which would make us want to come back," he said.

ANTI-LIQUOR CONGRESS HELD

Antwerp, Aug. 23.—An assault on alcohol was launched by delegates from most of the world's leading nations who yesterday inaugurated the International Congress Against Alcohol here.

The opening speeches stressed the importance of the economic aspects of the alcohol problem in grape growing countries such as France, Germany, Spain and Italy. The Swedish deputy Sandler discussed the prominence of the alcohol trade in international commercial treaties.

The congress resolved that intoxicated automobilists should be deprived permanently of permission to drive.

MILKY WAY WINS IN STAR CLASS

Victoria Boat Victor in Race at Orcas Island: American Boats Race

A sailing race was held on Sunday last at Rosario, Orcas Island, for the championship of the Gulf of Georgia. The race was won by the "Milky Way" in the star class of one-design yachts. This fleet consists of yachts from Victoria, Seattle and Bellingham. Victoria was represented by four yachts.

Milky Way, A. H. Buck and H. D. Payne; Boykin, R. P. Blandy; and Genie, N. P. Blandy. Bellingham had two entries, Beleguene, C. Erb and G. Powers; and Windrush, S. Piper. Seattle failed to send any representatives.

The race was sailed over a triangular course on East Sound, in a moderate breeze from the south. This entailed a beat to windward on the first leg, followed by a close reach on the second leg and a broad reach to the finishing line.

After an abortive round in which some confusion developed as to the course, it was decided to recall the race. In this first round, Beleguene and Milky Way made the best showing.

On the restart, Milky Way, Boykin and Windrush got over the line together, the former holding a lead of half a length. The other three contestants followed a few seconds later. Milky Way, ably aided by her veteran crew, outpointed and outslatted her rivals and had worked out a useful lead at the first mark. Barrett in Minaka by sailing in the smoother water inshore, worked up to second place at the windward mark, closely followed by Boykin. Windrush, Beleguene and Genie in the order named. Milky Way maintained her lead on the last two legs, but was challenged by Minaka, which crossed the finishing line only a few feet behind the winner.

HAD HOT FINISH

Boykin and Windrush had a hot race for third place, the latter just securing the inside position at the second turn.

SKY BLUE

A Romance of the Royal Air Force
By BOLLO VILLIERS

(The characters in this story are entirely imaginary, and no reference to living persons is intended)

"You are pardoned, my friend," replied a voice in poor English, that had in it the accent and sentence formation of the French. "It is entirely my fault. I am so small, and I walk so softly."

The voice almost purred caressingly and struck Deane immediately as he remembered the story Davies had told him, that same evening, of a little Frenchman he considered a spy.

What was the little man doing here, not more than a few yards from the house where Deane had been discussing the plans of his invention?

He shrugged his shoulders, however, as if unburdening himself of a needless worry.

Deane came out into the roadway and turned to go back to his quarters. As he did so he heard a patter of feet coming up the road from the other direction.

He stopped, not knowing why, and listened.

It was a girl and she came up to Bridgeman's house and went in to the gate.

"Yvonne," murmured Deane softly to himself. This was baffling.

He saw her silhouette for a moment against the light of the open door and then she passed inside.

If ever man felt a leper he did at that moment.

There was the woman he loved, the girl he would give his life for. Others could speak to her, others could touch her hand and receive her witching smile and back in her happy sunshine. But for him the stigma of darkness. He was barred, ostracized.

He turned his back on the home with a heavy heart.

CHAPTER X

Whatever justification there might have been for Flight-Sergeant Davies's suspicion as to the spying propensities of the mysterious Frenchman, and the almost uncanny corroboration Deane received of this, as he left Mr. Bridgeman's house, the foreigner knocked at the door and was admitted by the maid.

Bridgeman met him in the Hall. "Good evening, Monsieur Pichard. There was warmth in his welcome of the little Frenchman. "You have arrived just too late to meet another friend of mine."

"Good evening," replied the little man. "I hope you find yourself very well. I think I did meet your young friend, at least I nearly met a man in Air Force uniform, in collision as I came up your garden."

"Yes, that would be Deane," confirmed Bridgeman. "He's just gone."

"Now come into my study. I'm expecting another friend this evening. Miss Yvonne Dubois, a charming little lady you must have met at the Pages."

She and her grand-daughter," explained Bridgeman.

A strange soft light came into Monsieur Pichard's eyes as Bridgeman spoke the girl's name.

The latter saw it, and it puzzled him. The Frenchman was old; it couldn't be love. He was a newcomer to Yvonne, therefore, it could hardly be the affection of long association. And yet, there was something, some new light, a real tenderness that lit up the old man's face at the mention of her name, just as if it brought with it some dearly cherished memories.

Just then, before Bridgeman had time to speculate further, there was a knock at the door, and Yvonne was shown in.

"Come along, Yvonne," said Bridgeman, as he pressed her hand in welcome. "I expect you'll be bored to death with two old fogies like Pichard and myself."

"A fawn in the company of bears would be a good simile, I should say."

"By the way," he asked, "I believe you do know each other, so you won't need any introduction."

"Neither of us," cried Yvonne, delighted. "Monsieur Pichard may be a new acquaintance but, already, we're old friends."

"Ah, yes," sighed the old man, still in possession of his sweet smile of content. "Mam'zelle has been gracious enough to bestow her affection upon a dull old man."

Yvonne's old laugh broke out suddenly, that old laugh that seemed like the murmuring of water over smooth pebbles. It touched long-forgotten chords in the hearts of the two men.

It was obvious to Bridgeman that she had unbanned a load from her mind that Saturday afternoon on the Downs. He realized, in the return of this sunshine, that her faith in Deane was absolute.

His starved, old, bachelor heart warmed as he thought that soon these two youngsters would come together again and, perhaps, through his diplomacy.

"Now," broke in Yvonne, following up her ripple of laughter. "don't you two make yourselves fogies by talking like that. Do you think I'd come here if you were just bears?"

"What would you like to do, Yvonne?" asked Bridgeman. "I'm afraid it's no good putting the gramophone on to dance as both of us 'boys' are too young yet to know how to dance."

"Perhaps we could play three-handed bridge!" suggested Yvonne.

"Or," as if on a sudden inspiration, "perhaps you'd like to sit and listen to some music." "I'll do the work."

What do you say, Monsieur Pichard? she asked, turning to the Frenchman. He was sitting back in his chair, quietly watching every movement

Yvonne made and every little changing expression on her face.

"If I may be permitted," he said with the careful precision of a forger choosing his words, "to express my desire I should like to see you dance, Yvonne."

"As there are no partners, you can give two—'boys' did you say?—the pleasure of watching you execute a 'pas de saut'."

Yvonne laughed gaily. "But, you wild youth," she exclaimed. "Do you want to turn poor Mr. Bridgeman's bachelor-rooms into a cabaret? And anyhow, how do you know I can dance?"

"I can tell, ma chérie, you see I have seen—oh many dancers, all the best Paris has produced for forty years and I flatter myself I'm a judge."

"Come on then, let's go into the other room," cried Yvonne with delight. "I'll dance for you. What a ripping idea! What a lark!"

And then: "I say, you won't tell them at home, will you? They are dear, you know, but fearfully 'stuffy' on these matters. It would sound terrible if anyone said that Yvonne danced for the amusement of two young reprobates like you."

Bridgeman put on an air. It was a Spring Song, the dance of waking life, which started softly, as the buds on the trees began to open their eyes from the winter's sleep; then, it rose into higher cadence as the breeze came up from the South and rustled through the woodland trees.

Finally, came the victorious song of the mating love-birds, ending in a glorious pas de deux.

Yvonne danced.

But it was the spirit of her, the very soul of her that moved in rhythm, that fell softly in the first hush and then rose in exquisite harmony to the inspired notes of the composer.

The dance ended in a beautiful gesture of love's surrender and a silence fell upon the room.

Bridgeman smiled his pleasure, but there were tears in the old Frenchman's eyes, tears of mingled joy and memory.

"Exquisite!" he murmured. "I know it was possible. What did you say, Mr. Bridgeman. At least you were right when you said she was a fawn. Magnifique!"

Yvonne sat down, rather flushed of face partly due to the old exertion and partly to the old man's praise.

That was dear to her ears. She loved music and rhythm, she loved life, the thrill and ecstasy of it all, and it was rarely in the old world atmosphere in which she had lived so long, that she could give expression to her emotion in any way.

Beyond this, from the very first she had felt drawn toward Monsieur Pichard.

She couldn't tell why; she could not analyze her feelings; she only felt that, in him and through him, she sensed a strange sympathetic affinity.

Pichard broke the momentary silence that an exhibition of true artistry often creates. "Isn't it wonderful?"

"I have something to tell you, Yvonne," he said, nervously fingering his tie. "It is a secret that has lain on me for twenty years now, and although I intended to keep it just a little longer, I feel to-night I cannot keep it more."

He paused a moment to look at the eagerly listening girl.

"Of course, I know you won't mind Mr. Bridgeman hearing it. In fact I would rather we had a friend to witness what I shall say."

"A secret," cried Yvonne. "Oh, what can it be?"

"It concerns you, Yvonne, and it concerns your mother and—oh it concerns myself," he answered.

"My mother!" cried Yvonne, now thoroughly amazed, "and you!"

There was a profound silence in the room as Yvonne and Bridgeman waited for the old man's secret, the story he had to tell, which Yvonne's amazing dance had called forth, before the time, from the bosom where it had lain so long hidden.

At last he began: "Yes, it concerns you, Yvonne, your mother—and myself. Just over twenty-one years ago there was a man called Dubois who, although already middle-aged, was only rising to the height of his fame as an actor on the Paris stage."

"His art was not the art which has been so turned into a frenzy today by distorted music—it was the art of Bernhard."

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and Ploppity Plop

(Copyright, 1928, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate)

By HOWARD E. GARIS

Jackie Bow Wow and his mother stood in the bathroom, with Uncle Wiggily, watching the wonderful sailboat glide back and forth across the tub, without anyone blowing it or fanning it to make a breeze.

"I can't see what makes it go!" said puzzled Jackie for about the tenth time. "Isn't it wonderful?"

"I call it my wonderful boat," chuckled Uncle Wiggily. "But it is very simple when you know how."

"Then you had better tell us," gently barked Mrs. Bow Wow. "For I can't guess and I shall soon have to go out and get supper. I'd like to know what makes the boat move without anyone touching it or making any breeze for it."

"Maybe Uncle Wiggily has tied to it a string we can't see," suggested Jackie. "I'll go out of the room and the boat will still sail," said the rabbit gentleman, chuckling. "It did."

As I told you in the story before this, Jackie was ill. To amuse him, Uncle Wiggily brought the little puppy a toy sailboat. But when Jackie grew dizzy from blowing it and when Uncle Wiggily grew tired of fanning the sails, the rabbit gentleman hopped away and came back with a pail of water. He chucked Uncle Wiggily. "You may let go now, Bully, and stick your head out," he went on, speaking loudly to someone whom neither Jackie nor his mother could see.

But a moment later up out of the water in the bath tub beside the boat was thrust the head of Bully Nottail, the frog boy. Bully was smiling all over his big mouth, and as he floated on top of the water, with one paw, like a hand, resting on the edge of the toy sailboat, Bully croaked:

"In that enough, Uncle Wiggily? Don't you want me to swim under water some more and push the sailboat about in the tub?"

"No more, Bully, thank you," answered the rabbit. "The trick is over. I think I have made Jackie feel happier."

"Oh, indeed you have!" barked Jackie, who had almost forgotten that he was over ill. "I've had a lovely time. I'll soon be able to go out and sail my new boat on the duck pond where the real wind will blow to go it was you, Bully, who made my little ship go!"

"Yes, I did it!" croaked the frog boy. "Uncle Wiggily carried me from our pond up here in a pail of water. He put me in the bath tub and told me to sink down in the water out of sight and wait under water to reach one paw under the keel, or bottom, of the boat and tow it along to make it look as if it were sailing. So I did it!"

"You fooled me alright!" said Jackie. "I couldn't imagine what it was," said Mrs. Bow Wow. "But, hark, if you please," she gently whined. "I thought I heard the front door open. The Bob Cat has seen Uncle Wiggily enter the kennel house and knowing Jackie was ill, the Bob Cat thought it would be easy to catch the rabbit, who had gone to the head of the stairs, looked down. Seeing the Bob Cat in the hall, and knowing the Bad Chap would get Uncle Wiggily, Bully croaked:

"Here's where I make myself into a ploppity plop! I'll plop that Bob Cat in the face and make him wish he'd stayed out."

So, all wet as he was from having sailed the boat in the bath tub, Bully went plopping and plopping and hopping down the stairs. And when near the bottom the frog suddenly plopped into the Bob Cat's face, all dripping wet as he was!

"Oh, what's this?" howled the surprised Bob Cat. "You ploppity plop!" answered the croaking frog boy. And, truly, that's just what he sounded like when he jumped, all wet as he was. Anyhow he made the Bob Cat's face, all dripping wet as he was!

And if the baked potato doesn't jump out of its skin when you sprinkle red pepper on it, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the old toad.

Book of Knowledge

Sketches by Henry.
Synopsis by Henshaw.

THE TOOL-BOX

Every boy likes to make his own box in which to keep his tools. A completed tool-box that is very easy to make is shown above. The box should be about 18 inches long and 6 inches high, so pieces can be cut accordingly. Two pieces 6 inches by 7 inches suffice for the ends.

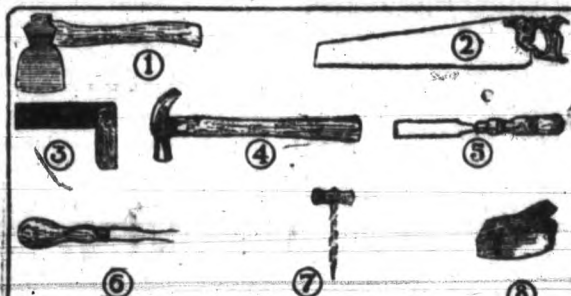

By H.E. Through Special Permission of the Publishers of The Book of Knowledge, Copyright, 1923-24.

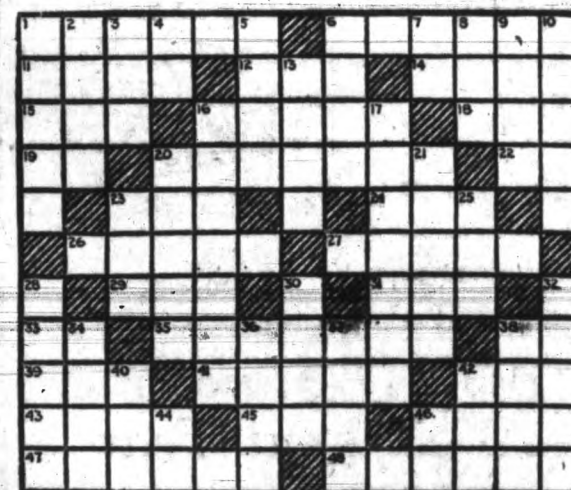

The top picture shows the ends and sides of the box nailed together. Below is a sketch of the lid, held together by cross-pieces.

The top picture here shows the position of a hinge. One end of the box, showing how the bottom fits on, is shown below.

Above are the tools every boy who wishes to make things with his hands should have. They are: (1) ax; (2) saw; (3) square; (4) claw-hammer; (5) chisel; (6) screw-driver; (7) gimlet; (8) plane. Besides it is well to have an assortment of nails, screws, hooks and the like with which to work. (Next: Bird Houses)

Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

To-morrow's Horoscope

FRIDAY, AUGUST 24, 1928

Again sinister planetary influences appear strong according to astrology, which reads in the skies malefic aspects that bode ill for many persons on Earth, the planet now in a period of supreme transitions. Financial conditions may be unsatisfactory for many persons who have not accepted the warnings of the seers. Speculation should be avoided to-day. This is an ideal day for bestowing flowers or for tending them. Gardens again focus much interest and a few that rival those of Europe will be much exploited, it is foretold. Because the smallest incidents often have widest effects and important events are reflected in the most insignificant lives there will be at this time much mental unrest, but the seers prophecy for the United States continued progress and prosperity. Persons whose birthdate it is may have to endure mental conflict in the coming year, but they can win peace and harmony by sticking to their right paths. These persons on the cusp of Leo and Virgo are often as difficult as they are charming.

Children born on this day probably will have eventful lives. The subjects of this sign which combines earth and fire influences have superb possibilities, as a general thing. They probably will love the outdoor world and be important at the restrictions of cities.
